Just as the sample received within my evaluation, the merchandise exceeded almost all my objectives. We are exceedingly happy with the grade of your item, as nicely as your customer care. My sales rep did an excellent job within communicating with us throughout the actual transaction. This flooring laid down efficiently and looks amazing. Excellent! We love the decision we created. We was required to send returning our first order since the color ended up being darker as compared to originally obtained but our sales person worked nearly impossible to find us exactly what we needed and received it shipped in report time. I most certainly will share my own great encounter with BuildDirect along with others. There was excellent verbal exchanges via cell phone and/or email and terrific customer service. When ones rep adopted up by using e-mail, I asked if there was any strategy to get less than the minimal. He rapidly sent us a quote with the quantity My spouse and i needed. I will probably know next week when I understand the results however my contractor would not mention any significant refuse. The small sample you directed was intended for natural and then I obtain carbonized. It was a good deal darker compared to the sample. We want it, but it could have been useful to you to inform me that there were a coloring difference, as it had the same name. Our installation technician said it's the best product he's ever worked with and the item looks lovely.

The merchandise and service are great, but it could be nice in case you could go back unused and unopened packing containers. First, the graphics on your web web site show the item so a decision can always be narrowed easily. Second, the particular sample practice was outstanding. We ordered them one particular afternoon and so they arrived within 24 hours. Website is simple to get around and samples arrived quickly. Made it very easy to decide on a tile for the house. Cannot beat the values and quality of this products. You used to be the only ones which had the precise style tile many of us wanted for the new residence. The ground looks spectacular. Everyone who has seen it comments about how beautiful it is. We adore it.
